

Job Description

Job Title: Painter & Decorator
Salary: c. £21,000 per annum
Location: British Motor Museum
Responsible to: Site Services Manager

Job Purpose:

The main duties when working within the building will be to maintain the conference rooms and public areas to exceptional standards of decoration by means of painting and decorating, including general minor building repairs/maintenance as required. A high regard for health & safety within a public environment must be demonstrated at all times as well as a tidy and clean work area. The position will require the candidate to work predominantly internally on site, although some external works will be required to maintain the building.

Job Role:

- To work within the Site Services Department on a flexible basis.
- Work in a fast paced environment with strong attention to detail
- Strong written and verbal communication will be required
- Able to prioritise and have an organised approach to works

Working hours; 37 hours per week Monday to Friday with some weekend/out of hours working as required

Person Specification:

The following skills/qualifications would be advantageous;
Diploma in Painting & Decorating or able to demonstrate relevant experience
Ability to tile
Able to undertake minor building repairs
Knowledge of suspended ceiling systems
Good health & safety awareness
Attention to detail at all times
Computer literate
Full UK Driving Licence would be an advantage due to the rural location of the British Motor Museum
Forklift Truck Licence (Training would be given to the right candidate)
IPAF Licence (Training would be given to the right candidate)

Applications:

All applications should be made to the Site Services Manager. Please send a CV along with a covering letter or email giving full details of your experience and suitability for this position to enquiries@britishmotormuseum.co.uk

Closing date: Sunday 9 December 2018